Fr. Cletus F. Dirksen Elected Officer of Economic Society Social Science Group Meet at Notre Dame

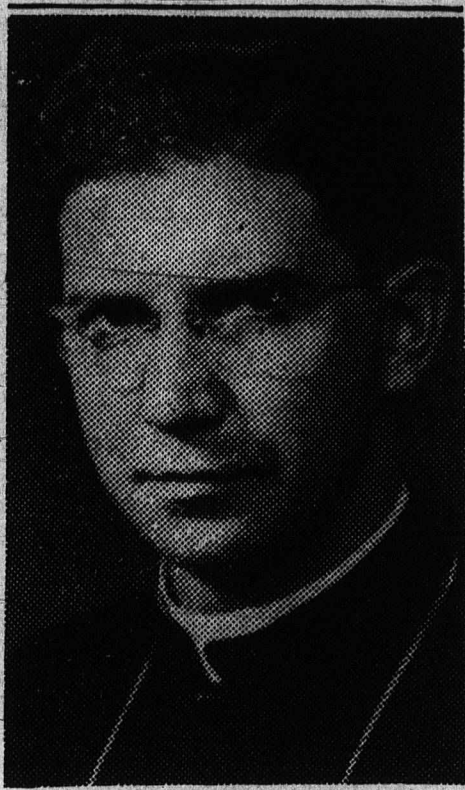

The Rev. Cletus Dirksen, C.P.P.S., professor of Economics at St. Joseph's College, was elected vice-president of the economic division of the Indiana Academy of Social Sciences, which held its annual meeting Oct. 30-31 at Notre Dame University.

A round-table discussion was held Friday afternoon on Labor Relations and the War, between the Rev. Wm. Bolger, C. S. C., Notre Dame, W. V. Owen, Purdue, and John Masten, DePauw University.

Have Informal Dinner

Friday evening an informal dinner session was held at the Hoffman hotel, at which time Prof. Edwin Witte of the University of Wisconsin spoke on "What the War is Doing to Us."

On Saturday morning another round-table discussion was held on the "National Debt After the War." Warren Shearer, Wabash College, Taulman Miller, Indiana University, and William Coyne of Notre Dame participated in this discussion.

Vacation As Planned

To suppress all doubts in the minds of the students regarding the vacation, holiday at Thanksgiving, it was announced by the Rev. Norman Koller, C.P.P.S., Dean of Students, that the date of the vacation is as stated in the calendar of announcements in the catalog.

According to the catalog Thanksgiving recess begins Wednesday, noon, Nov. 25, and ends Friday morning, Nov. 27. The same holds true regarding Christmas vacation, which begins Saturday noon, Dec. 19, and ends Monday morning, Jan. 4.

DMU Elects Officers For This Semester

The Dwenger Mission Unit, now under the moderatorship of the Rev. Henry Martin, C.P.P.S., met last Sunday morning for the purpose of electing officers.

Leonard Goettmoeller, vice-president last year, now holds the office of president. David Dougherty was elected vice-president, Robert Silk, secretary and William Volk, the Mission store manager, treasurer.

Reline Boilers Schultz, Brother Joe Work In Furnaces

Similar to putting a jig-saw puzzle together very well describes the work of August Schultz, of Gifford, Ind., as he crawls into the fireboxes of Collegville's powerhouse furnaces and relines their walls with firebrick.

Mr. Schultz, an expert at his trade, who drives back and forth from Gifford every day, has at his fingertips about four types of bricks; each type then has three or four different sizes. Working with large rectangular bricks to square ones, and big 'number three wedges' down to feather edged wedges, Mr. Schultz has a special place for them all.

Taking only a small section of the wall at a time, he removes the old, eaten-away brick and replaces it with the new. If he would remove a large section of the wall, there is danger that the whole wall

Richard Carpenter To Play Here Third Time Nov. 18

Pianist Will Offer Program Of Classic Music In Theatre

Richard Carpenter, brilliant concert pianist, will appear on the Collegeville stage on November 14. He will play Beethoven's "Sonata Pathétique," Liszt's "Etude in F Minor," and other classical numbers.

This is Mr. Carpenter's third performance at St. Joe in the last three years. His previous concerts were highly praised.

Graduated from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music he has gained quite a reputation as a soloist. He will come to St. Joseph's from New York, where he has been doing advance studying.

Sanguinists Induct New Members Into Society

Introducing its new members to its constitution, the Sanguinist Club held its regular meeting last Monday night.

Mapped out for future meetings was the following procedure: At the meeting on the second Monday of the month there will be a lecture by Father Grotenrath, C.P.P.S., while at the meeting on the fourth Monday a general discussion will be held.

John Terveer Will Address Scientists At Friday Meeting

John Terveer, sophomore from Decatur, Indiana, with his address on "Dehydrated Food" will be the main attraction at a meeting of the Albertus Magnus Club next Friday night.

"One of the remarkable features of dehydrated food," says John, "is its ability to retain its original value even though all the water has been removed. Food thus processed will also regain its original shape when the water is again added.

If dehydrating of food can be made entirely practical, our soldiers fighting in far off places may soon be using it extensively, for one pound of dehydrated food is equal to fifteen pounds of ordinary food. In this way much needed shipping space can be conserved.

Pictures To Belong To Yearbook; Open Competition For All

Rules for the photograph contest sponsored by Phase and the Campus Camera Club were announced this evening (Wednesday) at the meeting of the Camera Club.

The rules are as follows: Pictures must be taken within a two-mile radius of the College. Contest begins November 4 and closes December 1.

Pictures are to be handed in to Richard Schreiber and will be assigned a number by him. They will be placed on exhibition and identified by their numbers only.

Entry blanks must be filed with each entry. The pictures must be titled and the number of pictures permitted to be entered is limitless.

Division A: Cameras with lens aperture of F 6.3 or lower.

Division B: Cameras with lens aperture of higher F numbers than 6.3, fixed focus, and fixed speed.

Prizes will be three and one-half dollars, first prize; and one and one-half dollars, second prize for each division. There will be a limit of one prize to a member. The pictures may be any size under 5x7.

Faculty Will Judge

The judges for the contest are: Rev. Francis Hehn, C.P.P.S., Rev. Albert Gordon, C.P.P.S., and Rev. John Baechle, C.P.P.S. The judges' decisions are final. All photographs entered in the contest are subject to use by Phase.

All students enrolled at St. Joe at the present time are eligible to enter pictures in the contest.

Great care will be taken, but no responsibility will be accepted by the committee for loss or damage to prints submitted.

Fr. Hartman Continues Series Of Lectures Every Wednesday

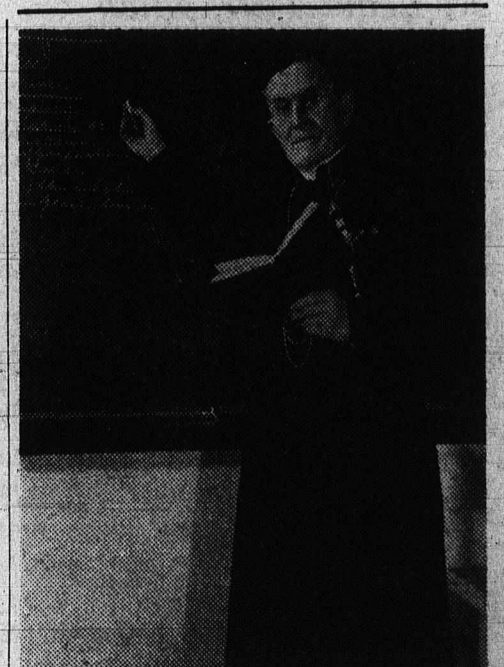

The Reverend Sylvester Hartman, C.P.P.S., professor of Logic and classical languages, continues his series of lectures in the College Chapel every Wednesday night immediately following Benediction.

Primarily intended for the Community Students, the lectures are, however, open to everyone, and the students are invited to attend.

Makes Practical Suggestions

Father Hartman has been lecturing on various topics so far this school year. While he is not following any definite subject, week after week, his lectures are always on matters pertinent to spiritual improvement and are practical in their suggestions.

Tonight Father Hartman lectured on the subject "The Sinner at the Bar of Judgment."

There Is An Answer

These are hard times for all men. War has turned the world upside down. So many of the things that were a commonplace part of living have become mere memories. It is difficult to plan for a future so uncertain as 'after the war.' Still that is the very problem every man must solve. And perhaps the hardest part of all is the fact that each and every one must decide the problem by himself. It is a problem too intimate to be decided by someone else.

The greatest danger is a resignation to whatever tomorrow's dawn may bring. It is a temptation to allow oneself to be carried along with the flowing tide of events, to plunge headlong into whatever may happen. So many have been swallowed up and obscured by the tide of time. Their lives have been twisted and ruined.

Each person is granted only one life—and after that eternity. That life is a precious, fleeting gift. Like all gifts it is hardly appreciated until that moment when its end draws near. For that reason a person struggles valiantly to hold life as only a man will struggle who is starving to keep something he loves and wants above all else.

Remember: Because man is a human being, he is a person endowed with a free will; the power to choose and direct his life belongs to him, hard though it may be at times to exercise that right because of various external forces that may be brought to play upon it.

It is true that things which a year ago seemed so very certain, so very real, may never materialize now. Yet a man must plan—so far as he is able—to keep that life within himself that he would ordinarily live. He must dwell awhile in the quiet of his own soul. For the answer to his problem is there.

At Least This Much

The Sanguinist Club for Catholic Action can well be satisfied with the results of their weekly devotion before the Blessed Sacrament. The first period of five to ten minutes, in special petition for the Alumni in the Armed Services, met with unusual success. At the second period of adoration the attendance held out rather well.

It is little enough, indeed, to offer up a short period once a week that those men who are giving their all for our safety may in turn be watched over and protected. With each week, the number of those kneeling in prayer after the noonday meal on Sunday should increase. The final goal—far off though it may seem at times—is a period of adoration where all the pews in the Chapel are filled, where every student who is able is on his knees before God.

With Dick Schreiber

WHILE WAR IS SUPPOSED to have a decided unbalancing effect on nearly everything and everyone, Hollywood has fortunately not shown any discouraging symptoms. That is, Hollywood hasn't if we can discount the tremendous amount of celluloid being used up for propaganda purposes. Still a lot of the propaganda has also been good art.

For on thing the moviegoer can be thankful: Hollywood seems determined to make the kind of pictures most of its public would like to see. And that precludes a good many of the Class B and C pictures on the Legion of Decency rating card. It seems to us that Hollywood is making considerably fewer B pictures this year than last.

RITZ: Friday & Saturday

The "Bells of Capistrano" is one of the last features which Gene Autry completed before joining the Army Air Corps as a Sergeant. There is one thing you can count on in Autry's film: Good, clean action and songs in Autry's own way—which may or may not please you according to your vocal taste. Legion Rating: A-1.

RITZ: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

Anyone who knows the least bit about the twinkle-toed profession of tap dancing will appreciate "Priorities on Parade," starring Ann Miller, Jerry Colonna, Vera Vague, Betty Rhodes, and Johnnie Johnson.

This is a delightful little story about the girls who have taken over men's jobs in airplane factories 'for the duration.' One of the pieces in the film is "Conchita, Marchita, Lolita, Rosita and Juanita Lopez." Legion Rating: A-1.

PALACE: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

"Tales of Manhattan"—the story of a full-dress suit—has Charles Boyer, Rita Hayworth, Ginger Rogers, Henry Fonda, Charles Laughton, Edward G. Robinson, Paul Robeson, Ethel Waters, Rochester, Thomas Mitchell, Eugene Pallette, Cesar Romero, Gail Patrick, Roland Young, Jimmy Gleason, the Hall Johnson choir and forty-odd other stars. What else could you want? Legion Rating: A-2.

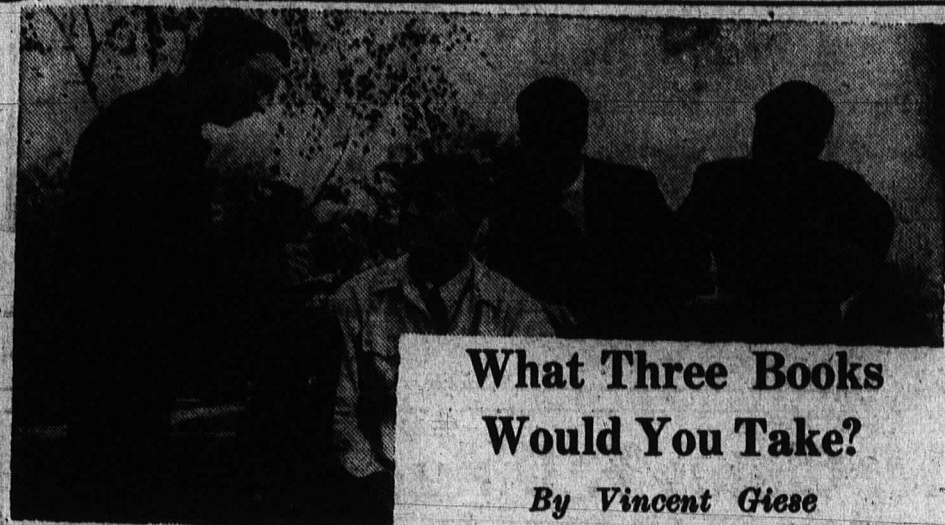

RITZ: Wednesday & Thursday

Adolphe Menjou, Bonita Granville, Jackie Cooper, and Connie Boswell are cast together in "Syncopation"—a picture you'll like tremendously if you like modern jazz. In the All-American band in the picture are such names as Gene Krupa, Bennie Goodman, Charlie Barnett, Henry James, and Alvino Rey. Legion Rating: A-2.

What Three Books Would You Take?

By Vincent Giese

We had a lot of fun this week teasing the imagination of students. After telling them to settle back in their easy chairs and to close their eyes, we asked them this question, "If you were all alone on a deserted island, what books would you like to have with you?" Here are their answers. Do you agree with them?

Wally Spalding, senior from Louisville, Ky.: Gone With The Wind, Scout's Handbook, and the complete works of Shakespeare.

Cliff Riede, sophomore from Louisville, Ky.: GWTW, Bible, and How To Live Alone And Like It.

Leo Stofko, sophomore from Lorain, Ohio: Works of Robert Louis Stevenson, Bible, Sense and Sensibility, by Jane Austen.

Ken Platt Canton, Ohio: Robinson Crusoe, Oxford Shakespeare, a book of famous quotations.

Charles Hodges, sophomore from Petersburg, Indiana: GWTW, The Last of The Mohicans, The Hunchback of Notre Dame.

James Channell sophomore from Alliance, Ohio: Oxford Shakespeare, Confessions of St. Augustine, Works of Robert Burns, poet.

John McCabe, sophomore from Harvard, Ill.: Works of A. Conan Doyle, Works of Shakespeare, No More Gas by Nordhoff and Hall.

Don Kremp, senior from Indianapolis, Ind.: A good novel and two technical mechanical books.

Paul Birkmeier, junior from Delphos, Ohio: Works of Shakespeare, Tale of Two Cities, GWTW.

John Benjamin, freshman from Bloomington Ill.: Bible, GWTW, Grapes of Wrath.

William Gray junior from Peoria, Ill.: Bible, Works of Horace, Works of Shakespeare.

A genuine Kentucky Colonel is Raymund Anglin Galvin, born in Lexington, Kentucky January 23, 1921. He went to school at St. Catherine's Academy there.

Ray has been a member of the Raleigh Club for four years, and he takes pride in the fact that he is the only charter member of the Camera Club on the campus. In the Columbian Literary Society for three years, he was elected critic last year and is now vice-president of that club.

When he is graduated in May, Ray will be the second to have ever received a Ph. B. degree, Bachelor of Philosophy, from St. Joe. He is majoring in philosophy and minoring in English and business law.

Although his future is as yet indefinite Ray would like to advance in the field of criminal psychology particularly, or any other branch in the department of criminology, hence his reason for majoring in psychology.

Akron, Ohio: Random Harvest, Lost Horizon, Ghengis Kahn.

From the looks of the poll it seems that William Shakespeare ranks high in the students' estimation as a good companion on a deserted island. The Bible and Gone With The Wind also are favorites.

Puma Prints

By John Feicht

With the conquest of Indiana State last Saturday St. Joe not only chalked up their first conference win of the season, but also extended to eighteen the number of consecutive successes for the football teams of coach Joe Dienhart.

It all started back in the 1940 season. After losing two of the first three encounters, the Puma grid machine began rolling into action. Three ball games were won, and then, on a rain-soaked field, the team battled to a draw in the season's finale.

We all know the story of last season. With a gloomy outlook the gridders began their pre-season drills; before many weeks passed, however, the St. Joe eleven had marked up four victories. Then again playing on a soggy field the team had to be content with a tie.

Finding the victory trail once again, coach Joe and his boys racked up four more wins before the season closed. As for this year you should all know the story. It was one, two, three wins, and then another tie. Now with Saturday's win the Pumas are again on the march.

During the span in which the St. Joe teams have been undefeated they have recorded fifteen wins and three ties. Schools that have been crushed by the Cardinal and Purple charges are the U. of Louisville, Evansville, Butler, Toledo, Detroit Tech, Carroll College, St. Norbert's, Valparaiso, Ill. Normal, Ill. Wesleyan, Indiana State, and both Loras and Central Normal twice.

St. Norbert's, Ill. Wesleyan, and St. Ambrose are the clubs which have held the Pumas to ties.

Through this undefeated era St. Joe has piled up a total of 321 points while holding the opposition to a mere 83. The largest score compiled by the Pumas was in the final game of the 1941 season when they downed Valpo 31-0.

In seven of the contests the opponents of the Dienhartmen were held scoreless. In only two games did the opponents score more than once, and on both occasions the games ended in ties.

On the other hand the Puma machine was held touchdownless only once; that was the Toledo game when the contest was decided by a field goal.

Only twice in the eighteen games did the team fail to register more than one touchdown. When St. Norbert's tied St. Joe in '40, the score was 6-6. Last season the Green Knights were defeated by a touchdown and a field goal.

In case you might be interested, the last school to defeat St. Joe was Xavier U. The Musketeers turned the trick Sunday afternoon, October 6, 1940. The score was 19-6.

Indiana State Falls 19 to 7 To Keep Puma Slate Clean

St. Joseph's Fightin' Pumas not only added number 18 to their string of consecutive gridiron successes, but also won their opening Indiana State Conference game last Saturday afternoon as they felled the strong Sycamores from Indiana State University, 19 to 7, before a Homecoming gathering at Terre Haute, Indiana.

The Dienhart-machine, eager to defend its unblemished conference record of last season, was slow to start; once it was rolling, however, it never stopped.

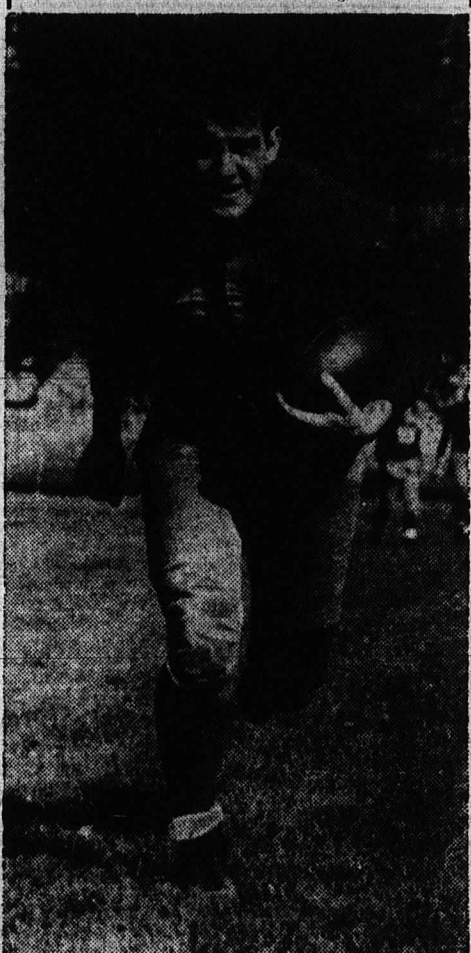

Bob Richeson, Indiana State right half, grabbed the opening kickoff on his own 27-yard line and carried it up to the 35-yard marker.

Indiana Scores First

After a few kick exchanges by Ellspermann and Richeson, Frankowiak of Indiana State tucked the pigskin under his arm on the St. Joe 40-yard line, and on a wide end run crossed the goal for the first score of the game. Frankowiak's conversion made the score 7 to 0.

Sparked by right halfback Ted Swierczek's interception and 33-yard return of an Indiana State pass from the St. Joe 7-yard line, early in the second quarter, the Pumas came to

Leads Attack

Ted Swierczek, fleet halfback, sparked the Puma offensive drive last Saturday at Terre Haute when the Dienhartmen vanquished Indiana State, 19 to 7.

It was Swierczek again, aided by Capt. Varini, who kept marching on to the Sycamore 14-yard line, from where left half Ellspermann hit pay dirt. Ellspermann's conversion tied the score at 7 all.

Second Half All St. Joe's

The second half was all St. Joe. Midway in the third quarter Varini made a brilliant 30-yard run to put the Pumas ahead, 13-7. The conversion was not good. The Sycamores threatened only once in this quarter.

St. Joe's final score came in the last period as George Ellspermann carried the ball over from the 3-yard line, after he and Varini had brought the ball from the Indiana State 30. Ellspermann missed the conversion.

The Pumas threatened again in the final quarter. Ellspermann completed a beautiful pass to Buckley; but the threat was squelched by Frankowiak who intercepted a St. Joe pass on the next play.

Offensively, Ellspermann, Swierczek, and Varini stood out for the Pumas, while Kauffmann and Smith tightened up the defense. Right half Richeson, and two linemen, Selge and Coleman, played fine ball for the Sycamores.

Coach Scharf Releases Cub Basketball Card

Coach Dick Scharf released a 17-game schedule for the Academy cage varsity early this week. The season opens against Goodland High, December 4. Additions to the schedule are probable.

Official practice got underway today (Wednesday). A full month of practice remains before the opener.

Varsity men back from last year are: Meiners, McElroy, Richert, and Wunderlich. Lost from last year's quintet are: LaTandresse, Kleine, Leahy, Milea, Greene, Brady, Joseph and Capt. Bob Schmelter.

In addition to these are several from last year's intramural league. Among those are: Dobe, Cody, Spenser, Quinliven, Vincent, and Commandella.

St. Joseph's Travel To Green Bay For Tilt Sunday, Nov 8

Nursing injuries from their 19-7 victory conquest over Indiana State, St. Joe's Pumas will seek to extend their string of games without defeat at the expense of St. Norbert's Knights next Sunday at Green Bay, Wisconsin.

The Pumas, who during the first quarter of last week's game looked as if they might be upset by an underdog, face a team that has been tagged with bad luck throughout the year.

In the first place, seven seniors graduated from last year's squad. More worries faced Coach Mickey McCormick this fall when he found that of last year's starting lineup, eight are now in the service.

Here's Norbert Lineup

Coach McCormick has put together a lineup which reads: Reindi and Kuehn, ends; Lefebure and Byrn, tackles; Vandenbranden and Kant, guards; and Richards at center.

The backfield is composed of Wondrash at quarter; Walters and Hickey, halfbacks; and Powers as fullback. This team has met two opponents who were also on St. Joe's schedule. St. Ambrose defeated them, 26-0; Loras whipped them, 18-0 last week.

Same St. Joe Lineup

Coach Dienhart will probably keep his same lineup: Bestudik and Skrabacz, ends; Wielontek and Yugo-vich, tackles; Smith and Kauffmann, guards; and Connie Vanderkolk, center. Stan Lapsys will continue directing the offense from his quarterback post. Ted Swierczek and George Ellspermann, halfbacks, and Capt. Pete Varini will carry on at their positions.

Infirmiry Business Slow So Far This Semester

Until last Saturday, when William Miller, freshman from Louisville, Ky., developed an acute case of appendicitis which necessitated an operation nothing serious in the line of injuries had been reported to the infirmarian, Pete Helmes.

Bill was operated on last Saturday morning at the Jasper County Hospital, Rensselaer, Indiana.

Phase Opens Office In Main Building

Phase, the College yearbook, has had its office moved to the old typing room in the Administration Building. The new location is proving to be much more convenient and satisfactory.

All pictures of students and faculty taken for Phase have been returned.

Poets Will Convene

At ten-thirty Sunday morning the Poetry Society will hold its first meeting of the year. High light of the meeting will be the election of new officers. All those interested in joining the society are urged to attend the meeting.

"Cradle Song" Boasts Long List of Theatrical Triumphs

Gregorio Martinez-Sierra, author of The Cradle Song, which will be presented in the College Theatre on Nov. 14, by the St. John's dramatic group from Whiting, Ind., was born in Madrid in 1881.

Until 1909, when he attained his first independent success with the comedy La Sombra Del Padre, Martinez-Sierra worked in collaboration with Rusinol in the composition of many plays. In 1911 he achieved a definite and permanent triumph with the production of The Cradle Song.

The Cradle Song has been translated into many languages, and has been played and imitated widely throughout the civilized world. Ten years after its premiere in Madrid, the play was presented in English at the Times Square Theatre, New York.

Has Successful Runs

On Nov. 2, 1926, it was given in the Fortune Theatre, London, only to be transferred to the Little Theatre where it completed a run of 109 performances. The Cradle Song then came to New York for a successful run of 125 performances. Productions at Oxford, Liverpool, and Dublin deserve mention too.

Martinez-Sierra's famous play is the story of a nun's reaction to a founding left at the convent; it is the unveiling of that undeniable and unsuppressible eternal instinct of motherhood; it is the story of how the nun cares for the founding.

John Garrett Underhill, in his forward to the book, has this to say, "The Cradle Song is Martinez-Sierra; it is the epitome of all his virtues." Other work's of his are The Kingdom of God; The Hope That's Ours and The Two Shepherds.

In the rendition by the Whiting, C.Y.O. group, Dorothy Bodney, Ann Simala, and Mary Cengel will essay the leading roles.

According to the Book of Knowledge, the Middle Ages considered Halloween as a mysterious event.

Xaverites brought back that same spirit during the Halloween party held in their hall last Saturday night.

Urban Dummering gave an excellent portrayal of Dr. Faustus while the band and singing furnished the musical part of the eve. Thomas Sweeterman presided as host for the group which included several members of the Faculty.

Fr. Baechle Adopts Pedigreed Poodle

Prancing around proudly on the end of a long leather leash since Monday afternoon is Skypilot's Wings, pedigreed English Pointer. Holding the other end of the leash is the Rev. J. W. Baechle, C.P.P.S., biology professor.

Skypilot's Wings, according to Fr. Baechle, comes from a long line of full-blooded English canines. Doctor Pavey, Rensselaer dentist, owns his father and mother.

Both Father Baechle and his 'pooch' hope to have a kennel completed shortly—at least in time to celebrate Skypilot's birthday. He will be two months old in the near future.

would collapse. The irregularly shaped bricks are used in corners and arches above the firebox doors.

It takes almost a week to reline one firebox; Mr. Schultz is on his second one now. As it takes about five or six days for a furnace to cool off, he won't be able to work on the last one until early next week.

This is the first time in four years—that is, since the stokers were installed—that the three fireboxes were repaired.

Assisting Mr. Schultz with the business of relining is Brother Joe Minch, C.P.P.S., maintenance man.

Exams Over, Students Enjoy Restful Weekend

With examinations over last Saturday and the blue books put away for another six weeks, many students took advantage of the opportunity and went home over the week end.

This will be the last trip home for some time for hitch-hikers since gasoline rationing goes into effect the latter part of November.

Several students traveled down to Terre Haute to witness the St. Joe football game Saturday, while others went to their home towns to celebrate Halloween.

Faculty Members Visit Carthagena

Three members of the faculty of St. Joseph's College attended a meeting pertaining to education and the educational policies of the Precious Blood Community, which was held at St. Charles Seminary, Carthagena, Ohio, last Monday.

Representing Collegeville at the conference were the Rev. Henry A. Lucks, C.P.P.S., Dean of Studies; Rev. Walter Pax, C.P.P.S., high school principal; and Rev. Joseph Hiller, C.P.P.S., in charge of the religious studies.

Also at the meeting were representatives of Brunnerdale Seminary, Canton, Ohio, and St. Charles Seminary.

Commerce Club Picnic

Members of the Commerce Club will have a picnic outing back of Drexel Hall Saturday afternoon and evening.

At the next regular meeting of the club, Dr. T. B. Frank, of the modern foreign language department, will speak on conditions in Europe before and after the rise of Hitler.

The Academy Corner

By Ed McElroy

It is our pleasure to introduce to you this new feature article—Gentleman of the Week. To start things rolling, Jim Carney will be the first one to be placed on the carpet of the Academy Corner.

Jim Carney, senior from Marysville Ohio, was born March 7, 1925. Jim graduated from Marysville grammar school in 1939. He entered St. Joseph's Academy this past fall to complete his high school education.

So far through high school Jim holds a scholastic average of 88%. Jim favors the mathematical and scientific subjects more than any other branch of subjects. In March he will enlist in the Army Air Corps and then will be subject to call prior to graduation.

Jim is a man of quite a few hobbies which include golfing, swimming, writing letters, and playing the trumpet. He is often called "Harry James The Second."
